JPMorgan Investment Funds - Global High Yield Bond Fund

- The Fund invests primarily in global below investment grade corporate debt securities.
- The Fund is therefore exposed to risks related to emerging markets, debt securities (including below investment grade/unrated investment, credit, interest rate and valuation risks), currency, class currency, liquidity, derivative, hedging, currency hedged share classes and RMB currency. Pertaining to investments in below investment grade or unrated debt securities, these securities may be subject to higher liquidity risks and credit risks comparing with investment grade bonds, with an increased risk of loss of investment. For "(icdiv)" share classes, which aim to pay dividend at a pre-determined annual percentage of net asset value per share to be paid as a monthly dividend that is not linked to income or capital gains, they are expected to pay dividends out of capital to a greater extent than other share classes and may do so over a prolonged period, which may result in a rapid and substantial erosion of the capital. If the value of the net asset value per share of "(icdiv)" share class falls to 1.00 in the Fund's base currency, the share class will be fully redeemed and terminated by the Management Company at the next practicable opportunity. For currency hedged share classes, the currency hedging process may not give a precise hedge and there is no guarantee that the hedging will be totally successful. For "(irc)" share classes, they may have greater capital erosion, and their net asset value may fluctuate more than and may significantly differ from other share classes.
- The Fund may at its discretion pay dividends out of capital. The Fund may also at its discretion pay dividends out of gross income while charging all or part of the Fund's fees and expenses to the capital of the Fund, resulting in an increase in distributable amount for the payment of dividends and therefore, effectively paying dividends out of realised, unrealised capital gains or capital. Investors should note that, share classes of the Fund which pay dividends may distribute not only investment income, but also realised and unrealised capital gains or capital. Payment of dividends out of capital amounts to a return or withdrawal of part of an investor's original investment or from any capital gains attributable to that original investment. Any dividend payments, irrespective of whether such payment is made up or effectively made up out of income, realised and unrealised capital gains or capital, may result in an immediate reduction of the net asset value per share. Also, a positive distribution yield does not imply a positive return on the total investment.
- Investors may be subject to substantial losses.
- Investors should not solely rely on this document to make any investment decision.
